

NATHAN J JOHNSON

SATURDAY 6TH MAY 2006 – NATIONAL EXHIBITION CENTRE, BIRMINGHAM – 3:30-5:30PM

FAMOUS MARTIAL ARTS HISTORIAN, Nathan Johnson with his deep research has rewritten the history of karate, with titles like 'Barefoot Zen', 'Zen Shaolin Karate' and now 'The Great Karate Myth', giving far more accurate and practical explanations to kata like Naihanchin, Sanchin and Tensho, bringing new purpose to the training of thousands of martial art practitioners world wide.

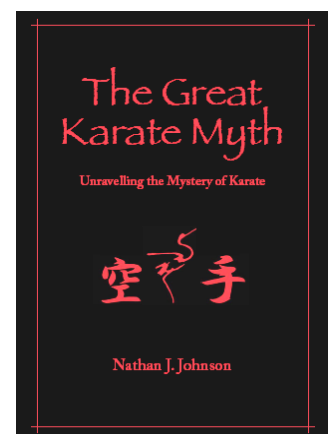

Nathan has an excellent understanding of the ethos behind the martial arts and is able to give in-depth lectures on the history behind the traditional karate kata with vibrant and lively practical demonstration and tuition. Nathan has an extensive history in both Wing Chun Kung Fu and Shorin Karate.

The Great Karate Myth

This event will also be the launch for Nathan's latest title – 'The Great Karate Myth', simultaneously a controversial exposé, and an instructional manual. It constructively challenges virtually everything the seasoned Karate enthusiast and novice alike may believe about the art of Karate, its origins and its original purpose.

If you already practice any of the mainstream Karate styles (Shotokan, Goju Ryu, Wado Ryu, Uechi Ryu, etc.), after reading this book, you will never view Karate in the same way again!

INCLUDES A FREE INSTRUCTIONAL DVD

Session Price

The two hour session is priced at £25 and includes your Seni06 show ticket!
